FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

CASPER, Wyoming - JumpingSand Ventures, a privately-funded venture company with headquarters in Casper, Wyoming, announces the commencement of a unique food delivery service branded "GASTSTÄTTE JumpingSand German Home Cooking", referred to more appropriately in German as "Stammeßen Lieferugservice" (hereafter in this release referred to as "the delivery service"). A very limited menu will be offered during lunch time for free or low-fee delivery select days of the week. This is a delivery only service. This service is designed to be implemented according to current interpretation of Wyoming law, namely and specifically W.S. 11-49-101 - 11-49-103 "Wyoming Food Freedom Act of 2015" as numerously amended through 2023 which allows for the sale of homemade foods.

LAW AND ORDER(ING GERMAN FOOD)

The history of the Wyoming law that enables producers to sell foodstuffs directly to the general public began in 2015 when the Wyoming legislature passed one of the most comprehensive, forward-thinking laws affecting food supply in the United States of America: "Wyoming Food Freedom Act of 2015", amended through the years most recently as Senate Bill 102 (SF102) in 2023. The unanimous vote for the updated legislation in the House was 62-0, and 30-1 in the Senate with Senator Charles K. Scott of District 30 casting the lone "nay" vote. The esteemed Senator Scott is a 40-some year tenure politician previously serving first as a state Representative now a state Senator. He is a Cattle Rancher representing about 18,000 constituents in a sparsely-populated agricultural area due west of Casper, WY. Senator Scott certainly must have had his reasons for casting the lone "nay" vote, but the amendment passed and thankfully became effective July 1, 2023, just a few short weeks ago. According to the law as amended, producers and sellers may sell any food or food items including "potentially hazardous" items like eggs, cheese, and meat directly to the public as long as statements advertise the homemade food "is not certified, labeled, licensed, packaged, regulated or inspected." and "made in a home kitchen, is not regulated or inspected and may contain allergens". The law in Wyoming now clearly and explicitly allows food sold from a home kitchen to the public. To wit, W.S. 11-49-103.(d) states: "Nothing in this section shall prohibit the sale of homemade food for home consumption from a retail space located at the ranch, farm or home where the food is produced."

GERMAN HOME COOKING DIRECT TO YOU

Beginning as soon as practicable, a limited menu and schedule will be published and distributed to local Casperites for the delivery service. "GASTSTÄTTE JumpingSand German Home Cooking" will have one Main Course available per day of "Stammeßen" fare.

Main Course (Hauptgang) ($15 - $19 with one side & bread) Different selection each day. Examples include:

- Sauerbraten, a traditional German roast beef marinated and pickled to impart a recognizable German flavor
- Schnitzel, very common German cuisine fried pork cutlet prepared a variety of different ways
- Frikadellen, fried meatloaf patties ubiquitous in German cuisine, likely the predecessor to the modern American Hamburger

Side Dishes (Beilagen) ($3 - $7 each) Available Always:

- A cup or bowl of a changing selection of soup or stew as accompaniment: Fish Stew, Vegetable Soup, Beef Stew, Lentil Soup, etc.
- German culture-specific salad selections: Cucumber Salad, Mixed Salad, Sauerkraut, Pickled Vegetables, etc.
- Knödel (potato dumplings) with rich savory gravy
- Pommes ("Freedom Fries" or "Friedhelm Fries") fried, lightly-breaded thinly-cut potatoes, salted, served often with Ketchup
- Spätzle (egg-noodles) a traditional Southern German dish served with or without gravy (say it right: SH-PAY-tz-lay)
- Kartoffelsalat (potato salad) the crave-worthy potato salad either Haberschlächter-style with tarragon or country-style.

Beverages ($3 - $5) - custom handmade "Ampersand™ Soft Drink" brand soda, coffee and other beverages

Desserts ($4 - $7) - a selection of flavors of "GlattRahm™ Ice Cream", Apfelstrudel, & Schwarzwälder Kirschtorte (Black Forest Cake)

Brötchen & Brot - an ever-changing selection of the world-famous German rolls & breads like Brezel, Dreikorn, or Roggenbrot

Condiments - Ketchup, Currysoße, Senf (German-style Mustard) & an expanded selection of favorite flavorings from all over the world

FUTURE PLANS

President and Chief Executive Officer of JumpingSand Ventures Christopher Green commented: "My future plans are to expand in manpower, hours, menus, and locations, but for now it's just me doing it all from my home kitchen in Downtown Casper. I am seeking to personally prepare, cook, and deliver great German Home Cooking direct to our community" Green said. "This concept of German cuisine delivery is a unique consumer choice with high nutritional value inside an expected price band. Auf Deutsch: Guten Appetit!"
